

Year in Review - Annemarie Luik, The Netherlands

What can be learned from recent data on sleep from prospective cohorts? Are there any noteworthy changes in trends of prevalence for sleep disorders? How is sleep used to make an impact on public health? During this talk a selection of insights from recent publications on sleep from the fields of epidemiology and public health will be discussed.